

PRESS RELEASE

Dethomas Peltier Juvigny & Associés elects Ning-Ly Seng to partnership

Paris, January 26, 2018

Ning-Ly Seng started her career in 2004 at Bredin Prat (Paris and Bruxelles) and was seconded in New York at Cravath, Swaine & Moore in 2010. She became Counsel in 2015 before joining Dethomas Peltier Juvigny & Associés end of 2016.

Ning-Ly has been handling over the past 13 years major national and international mergers, divestures and acquisitions, joint ventures, and strategic partnerships. She also regularly advises companies in state aid and competition litigation cases both at French and European level.

Since joining the firm, Ning-Ly was notably involved in successful mergers cases for clients such as Groupe Canal + and Engie.

“Ning-Ly is a talented, pugnacious, and competent lawyer. Thanks to her and our partner Thibault Reymond, we offer our clients one of the best Competition law teams for both merger and litigation cases,” says Olivier de Juvigny, co-founder of the firm.

Ning-Ly comments: “I am very happy to become partner of this firm which radiates strong collective energy. Last year was marked by strategic complex and highly technical cases. It is a great pleasure to work alongside such creative and involved lawyers, in a firm that focuses on quality for their clients to ensure their position.”

About Dethomas Peltier Juvigny & Associés

---

Founded in 2014 by partners from top-tier firms, Dethomas Peltier Juvigny & Associés advises clients in complex or sensitive operations and strategic litigations, whereas fostering a risk management approach. The firm’s expertise is recognized by many publications and has received distinctions as among the best in M&A, securities litigation, shareholders litigation, white collar crime, merger control and competition litigation.

---